PACT NATIONS OPEN PARLEY AT BRUSSELS

Spurred by Red Threats And Thrusts Ministers Meet to Muster International Army

WARNING FROM PACE

Brussels, Belgium, Dec. 18—(AP)—U. S. Army Secretary Frank Pace warned the North Atlantic Allies today they are "far from ready" to withstand a Communist assault on western Europe.

Opening a two-day meeting of Atlantic defense and foreign ministers gathered to complete plans for a unified European Army, Pace told the defense chiefs the U. S. will aid its partners' defense efforts only if it is "fully convinced" each nation is doing all it can to help itself.

Pace is representing U. S. Defense Secretary George C. Marshall at the meetings.

Pace said after 14 months of meetings the Atlantic alliance "can show some real progress in strengthening our military and economic position to withstand a Communist assault on western Europe, but we are far from ready even now."

Pace did not mention the toughest problem before the ministers—coaxing or forcing the Germans to supply troops units for the projected international army. High diplomatic sources here agreed on the eve of the meeting that the Atlantic pact leaders were ready to find a tough solution for it.

Both the United States and Britain are reported prepared to lay down the law to the West German republic, if necessary, to overcome German objections to their rearmament.

The Germans, who are not represented at the 12-power conference, have objected to joining an international army unless invited to do so on an equal basis with the other Atlantic pact members.

West German Socialist Leader Kurt Schumacher, at Duesseldorf last night, said his powerful party would call for a national move-

Request That Business and Workers Voluntarily Freeze Prices and Wages Shapes Up

Washington, Dec. 18—(AP)—A request that business and workers voluntarily freeze all prices and wages shaped up today as the government's probable next move in fighting the inflation fired by mounting defense spending.

Officials who asked not to be named said such a step was contemplated within a few days by Alan Valentine, head of the Economic Stabilization Authority (ESA).

As they outlined it, the request would be that business, unions and the public adhere voluntarily to the prices and wages which existed on Dec. 1 or some other recent date.

But further compulsory price controls appeared to be in the making, following up the rollback on new car prices which Valentine ordered over the weekend.

Meat industry officials were called in today to discuss prices, leading to speculation that ceilings may be clamped shortly on beef, veal and lamb.

Meanwhile, Charles E. Wilson prepared to take over as the overall boss of the nation's mobilization against possible new Communist aggression. Wilson is resigning as president of the General Electric Co. to direct the new agency.

President Truman established the Office of Defense Mobilization on Saturday shortly after issuing a formal declaration of national emergency.

The voluntary freeze on prices and wages which Valentine was reported studying would remain in effect only until March. By that time, ESA expects to be ready to administer compulsory price controls, either on a selective basis or on the whole economy.

A violation of the proposed request would carry no penalty. But Mr. Truman said in his Friday night's speech that any violations of the "fair standards" he said ESA will announce would hasten mandatory controls and price rollbacks where they are justified.

The rollbacks of new automobile prices announced by ESA Saturday night were protested as unfair by General Motors and Ford, but they said they will comply. The law provides penalties if they don't.

The price ceilings—first since OPA died in 1946—apply only to new cars. Valentine orders a ceiling until March 1 at the factory price level which prevailed Dec. 1.

Mayor Bernard Samuel directed Samuel Rosenberg, public safety director, to use "every faculty at your command" to track down the killer.

And Rosenberg, in ordering nearly 200 police officers to the area called up the greatest deploy-

Warren And Forest County Youths Are Accorded Honors

Six Warren and Forest county youths were accorded a high honor over the weekend when they were awarded the 1950 Keystone Farmer Degree by the Future Farmers of America.

Those receiving the award, the Associated Press reported today from Harrisburg, were:

David Cressett, chief of the air raid warden service of the Warren County Civilian Defense Council, stated that the signal test revealed the need for a more adequate system of warning devices. He said, however, that the cooperation received throughout the county in regards to the test was outstanding.

Mr. Cressett will contact Harrisburg in regards to obtaining additional signal devices which will provide warnings to parts of the county and borough not covered adequately on Saturday. This will be done as soon as possible and the signals will comply with the specifications of the federal government.

Warren County's air raid signal test Saturday afternoon at one o'clock, was held as scheduled with factory whistles in the borough and volunteer fire department sirens in the county providing the warning alarm in addition to the radio warning over WNAE.

Automobile Prices Will Be Rolled Back Over Objections Of Labor and Makers

Detroit, Dec. 18—(AP)—General Motors Corporation today halted the sale of 1951 model Chevrolet, Pontiac and Cadillac passenger cars—all affected by the government's price rollback order of last Saturday. GM told dealers any Pontiacs, Chevrolets or Cadillacs received on or after today will remain the property of GM on a consignment basis and not to be sold until released by the corporation. The GM order said the action was taken "pending an examination of passenger car prices, including the possible effect of this order on wages."

Detroit, Dec. 18—(AP)—Automobile prices will be rolled back on government order—but only over strong objections from both car makers and labor.

Both factions in the big auto industry have labeled "unfair" the economic stabilization agency's Saturday order to push back car prices to the Dec. 1 level.

Nevertheless, General Motors Corp., the Ford Motor Co., and Nash Motors, three of the firms that boosted prices this month, said yesterday they would comply. GM's Cadillac division withdrew a scheduled price increase announcement.

There was no immediate word from Chrysler Corp., the other producer involved.

Other companies had announced their increases on 1951 models before Dec. 1.

One spokesman for the auto industry said of the rollback order: "They are taking advantage of the auto industry." A GM official called the move "patently discriminatory."

This view got staunch support from Walter P. Reuther, president of the CIO United Auto Workers and often a bitter foe of the auto producers' policies.

Reuther said he opposed "pin-point price control that is discriminatory and does not get to the basic causes of spiraling costs of living."

The UAW leader less than a fortnight ago had denounced as unjustified the price boosts announced by General Motors. They were the first in the most recent series of increases.

Reuther also threw out a warning that his union would fight to keep the cost-of-living escalator. (Turn to Page Eight)

Coldest Night Of Winter Is Forecast

Pittsburgh, Dec. 18—(AP)—The Weather Bureau warned western Pennsylvanians today to get ready for the coldest night of the winter. The forecast calls for a low of five degrees, two above the previous low set Nov. 25.

Only a few new snow flurries are expected. The temperature slipped to 12 degrees last night after a high of 22 yesterday.

Fights And Family Rows Keep Police Busy Over Weekend

City police began their weekend activities by picking up a nine-year-old youngster whom they have lately observed running the streets at all hours of the night. They located the boy's mother in a local beer parlor and proceeded to give her a short talk about lacking care of the lad. She was told that her case would be turned over to juvenile authorities if she didn't turn over a new leaf.

The only automobile accident listed was of a minor nature. It occurred at 6:18 p. m. yesterday when a car operated by E. L. Norris, YMCA, skidded while making a turn into Shantz street from Pennsylvania, and hit a window of the Kuhre Market. Damage to the window was placed at $75, and to the car at $10. No one was injured.

This morning, another minor accident on the South Side claimed police attention for a short time, but the operators settled their claims. Damage was small, and no report was filed.

Fights and drunks marked police work Saturday and yesterday. Two fights at the Revere Hotel early Saturday morning were quieted, and police were called to the West Side at 3:55 a. m. Saturday. (Turn to Page Eight)

Arrival Of U. S. Battleship Missouri Increases Range And Effectiveness of Naval Fire

Tokyo, Dec. 18 (AP) A fiery bombardment by warships and field artillery today held at bay another Red Chinese assault on the United Nations' tiny Hungnam beachhead in northeast Korea.

The U. S. Battleship Missouri arrived offshore. Its 16-inch guns and one-ton shells were a welcome addition to the curtain of fire shielding hard-pressed units of the U. S. 10th Corps.

Maj. Gen. Edward M. Almond, 10th Corps commander, obviously was pleased by the intense firepower hurled at the masses of Chinese intently pressing on Hungnam port from three sides.

"Things are going just the way we planned them," he said. "Now every time the Chinese Communists dig in, we hit them with artillery concentrations, mix them up and knock them out. That's something we have been unable to do before."

At no point on the port's defense arc had the Chinese been able to punch through. Observers said, the Reds apparently had not sent many troops into bomb and shell-shattered Hamhung, industrial city six miles northwest of Hungnam. Hamhung was abandoned to the Reds Saturday.

An estimated 25,000 Chinese pressed against the beachhead rim. Another estimated 75,000 were moving up in the snow-mantled hills west and northwest of Hungnam.

Arrival of the battleship Missouri increases the range and effectiveness of naval fire. The mighty Mo's guns have a range of 20 miles, far enough to reach the white hills sheltering Chinese rear positions.

The Missouri entered the Korean war Sept. 15 with an intensive shelling of Samchok on the east coast. This was after an 11,000-mile dash from Norfolk, Va.

General MacArthur's war summary credited combined naval and ground force bombardment with breaking up a pre-dawn assault against perimeter positions west of Hungnam—evidently an attack intended in great force.

However, U. S. Third Infantry division doughboys rose from their snowy foxholes against the seashore flats to repel charges by wildly-shouting Chinese in company strength Sunday night.

Field dispatches said the Chinese screamed "all right, all right" as they attacked by the light of their own green and red flares. The shouts were in high-pitched, sing-song English.

And the riflemen mowed them down. (Turn to Page Eight)

Lake Success, Dec. 15—(AP)—The U. N. cease-fire committee announced today it had offered to go to Peiping for direct Korean peace talks with Chou En-Lai, foreign minister of Communist China.

The disclosure was made in the General Assembly's 60-nation political committee by Lester B. Pearson of Canada, a member of the three-man truce body.

Pearson read a cable, which the group had sent to Peiping last Saturday. The cease-fire committee offered to meet Chou either in Peiping or at any other place designated by him.

The cable was sent, Pearson said, after the cease-fire committee had consulted unofficially with Red China's envoy here, Gen. Wu Hsiu-Chuan, and discovered that he had no authority to negotiate peace.

Pearson said no reply has yet been received from Peiping. Pearson asked the political committee to bear with the cease-fire group a little longer while it continues its efforts.

The group met yesterday to frame their report and hear Rau detail his conversations Saturday night with Red China's representative, Wu Hsiu-Chuan. (Turn to Page Eight)

Rites For Victim of Coasting Accident Tuesday; Jury Will Hold Inquest Later

Services in memory of Carl Julius Stapper, Jr., 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stapper, Sr., 118½ Darlington street, who died Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock, of a fractured skull sustained in a coasting accident last Wednesday evening, will be held from the Lutz-VerMilyea Funeral Home Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock.

The Rev. John Z. Andree, of the First Church of the Nazarene, will officiate, and interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

Two other victims of the accident, injured when a new sled owned by Stapper, on which three were riding, crashed into a car driven by Axel Lundahl, 206 Russell street, in Central avenue last Wednesday, are still in the hospital, but reported making satisfactory recovery. They are Theodore G. Huber, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore R. Huber, 121 Russell street, and Allen Bergman, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Bergman, 205 Darlington street. Huber has a fracture of the left leg, abrasions about the face and is suffering from shock; Bergman suffered a fracture of the left leg and has a large laceration of the left arm and other injuries.

Following a conference with acting Chief of Police M. Evan Sunday Coroner Ed Lowrey impounded a jury at the Lutz-VerMilyea Funeral Home, and announced that an inquest will be held in the case after the surviving boys recover sufficiently to appear before the jury. The jury is composed of Dr. D. A. Smith, Glenn Patchen, Lloyd Knowlton, Eldo DeLong, LeRoy Schneck and Robert Moorhead.

The sled, owned by the Stapper boy was a new one, of the flexible flyer type. It was damaged about the left runner. The left side of the bumper on the automobile, near the bracket was split about six inches by the force of the impact.

The unfortunate victim of the accident was born in Warren March 20, 1932, and resided here all his life. For the past five months he had worked at the

Warren Officer At Chaplain School, Carlisle Barracks

(Special to The Times-Mirror)
Carlisle Barracks—Among those called to active duty with the U. S. Army in the present emergency is Chaplain McCutis W. Allison, associate pastor of the First Lutheran Church, Warren. Chaplain Allison is now at the Chaplain School, Carlisle Barracks, prior to reporting back to his duty assignment at Camp Atterbury, Indiana.

The Chaplain School, where both Army and Air Force Chaplains are trained, prepares its students in the peculiar techniques of the military chaplaincy. Clergymen who returned to civilian life after service as chaplains during World War II are out of touch with the many post war developments in military organization. The school brings them up to date on these matters.

At the same time the Chaplain School is among the most progressive schools for the training of Clergymen in such common techniques as Counseling, the use of Audio-Visual aids in religious instruction, Public Speaking, Radio and Television techniques. Chaplain students receive intense training in these subjects.

After completing the four week course at the Chaplain School, Chaplain Allison will proceed to his duty assignment.

In ancient times, banking services often were performed by the priests as an incidental service in the temples.

MacKenzie's Column

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

The Chinese Communist advance in Korea "has cast a shadow of fear over southeast Asia."

That is the central note of a dispatch from Seymour Topping, AP correspondent reporting from Hanoi, French Indochina. Simultaneously another AP Staffman, Kenneth Lakes, cables in similar tone from Saigon, Indochina.

The consensus of military and diplomatic observers in Hanoi is that if China secures Korea she will then turn southward to countries rich in resources she needs. These observers feel that the French and British armies in southeast Asia aren't ready to cope with a massed attack by China.

Certainly the situation is grave enough to warrant gloom on the part of the colonial powers in some instances.

However, it strikes me that one of their greatest weaknesses is that they are Colonial Powers.

The terms "Colonialism" and "Imperialism" are anathema to the peoples throughout Asia. In many instances the "mother countries" are facing a fierce resentment against Colonialism by peoples who want their independence. A case in hand is that of French Indochina where the authorities are battling a rebellion. Now it is true that heavy communist influences are fostering the revolts, and that manpower and material help are being sent over the border into Indochina by the Chinese.

However, the point is that the Reds are taking advantage of the Anti-Imperialist feeling among the natives by promising independence. The natives are ready to grab at any straw which they think may give them sovereignty.

Colonialism has existed so many centuries that it's difficult to accept the fact that it is fast on its way out. The days when a "mother" country could impose her will on the peoples of another race are gone forever.

Of course, it is going to take time to do away entirely with colonial systems. There are dependencies in some backward parts of the world which are quite incapable of standing on their own feet. They need help. But that increasingly will be made available in a disinterested way.

Appropos of this question of colonialism, Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, 1950 winner of the Nobel peace prize, had something to say on the subject in his traditional Nobel lecture yesterday in Oslo, Norway. He warned the west that there must be "an awakening of the incontestable fact that the far away, little known and little understood peoples of Asia and Africa, who constitute the majority of the world's population are no longer passive and no longer to be ignored." At another point he declared:

"There must be a liquidation of Colonialism."

That is the plain writing on the wall. It is particularly applicable to southeast Asia, where the call for independence is the battle cry of numerous peoples. Small wonder that there is "a shadow of fear" over that troubled part of the world.

MOBILIZATION PLAN

In the opinion of many President Truman has called for much less than all-out mobilization right away. And, except for the draft, the changes which affect civilians will not come all at once.

In his talk to the nation Friday night, and proclamation of the existence of a national emergency, the chief executive set some "immediate goals." They will get the country started on mobilization and war production. Once under way, these goals can be stepped up.

They lay a foundation for a much wider and sudden expansion, if that's considered necessary. The question, of course, is this: Will the Russians wait that long before starting a war?

The president is going to build up the armed forces. And he calls for higher taxes and much greater defense production, which will mean less civilian goods. But all-out mobilization would mean:

A terrific cut in civilian goods, censorship, such a rigid government control of people they could be told where to work, and other things. That may come, but not now.

The president says there must be wage and price controls. And in time all wages and prices may come under controls. But at this time the president wants only limited wage and price controls.

He says the government is starting at once to put price controls on items mostly important to defense production and living costs. And he says the government would hold down wages in those controlled businesses.

But what about all the other businesses and people not put under price or wage controls? Mr. Truman says the government would try to set up for them fair standards of prices and wages.

The fact is, the government simply can't impose blanket price and wage controls immediately. It doesn't have the machinery.

Even in defense production there's no sign of all-out mobilization at this time. For example, Mr. Truman says within one year from now this country will be turning out planes at five times the present rate.

The Chinese are believed to have 4,000,000 men under arms, and the Russians more than 4,000,000. At the time of the Korean outbreak this country had 1,500,000 men under arms.

Mr. Truman wants to step our armed strength up to 3,500,000 a year "as soon as possible." He didn't indicate this was the limit. At the time of Pearl Harbor this country had 2,000,000 men in training and by 1945 had reached a peak of 12,000,000 men under arms.

BEWARE OF CARBON MONOXIDE

More and more recently, especially since the winter set in we have observed headlines of some man or woman who was found dead sitting in a car or lying on the floor of a closed garage. Just Friday an exchange told of a victim who was overcome while placing chains on his car inside a building. Officials usually find the cause of death was carbon monoxide produced by running the car in a place without fresh air and oxygen.

Carbon monoxide works swiftly and without warning. The process is explained by Edwin P. Jordan, M. D., in an article written for NEA Service, who says "the exhaust of a car, for example, pushes carbon monoxide into the air. When breathed in, this odorless gas combines with a portion of the blood known as hemoglobin which normally carries oxygen to the tissues. If carbon replaces oxygen in the hemoglobin, the tissues are starved for life-giving oxygen. It quickly causes unconsciousness and death soon after."

The danger from carbon monoxide poisoning is always greater in winter than in summer, houses and garages are likely to be shut up tight and fresh air does not circulate as it does in the summer. This means that a furnace, heater, or running the motor of an automobile in a closed garage will produce carbon monoxide which is not promptly diluted with oxygen.

If only small amounts of carbon monoxide are present warning symptoms may be present such as headache, dizziness, desire to vomit, muscular weakness, and a generally uncomfortable feeling. It is only when large amounts of carbon monoxide are present that the victim becomes drowsy so fast that these symptoms are lacking.

The use of defective stoves or furnaces and running the motors of automobiles in closed garages, however, are invitations to the next world.

If still alive a person who has been exposed to carbon monoxide should be removed from the bad air at once. Artificial respiration and giving oxygen as soon as possible are desirable. Fire department crews, police, and gas company employees are usually trained to give rapid emergency treatment for this form of poisoning.

Here And There

The strange account of how "Silent Night" came to be written by the obscure Franz Gruber in a tiny German mountain town of Oberndorf still makes an interesting Yule season story. Here it is as it was printed in the Times-Mirror of many years ago:

Going back to the day before Christmas, a century ago... a small German church snuggled under a blanket of snow and prepared to hold regular Christmas worship with Christmas songs... then it happened... the church organ broke down... this was real tragedy for the music-loving little congregation... Christmas without music was no Christmas at all... something had to be done... the only musical instrument available was a guitar, which couldn't do justice to Christmas hymns because it lacked the range and volume of an organ... so the church appealed to Franz Gruber, asked him to work out some simple melody, something so simple that a guitar could carry the tune and the congregation could hum it... the young German took some paper and a pencil and composed the music to "Silent Night"... in a few hours it was completed... words were written by a priest, Father Joseph Mohr... he was returning from a sick room several miles from the little town... as he came to the top of the hill he stopped and saw the village spread out below him, a light twinkling here and there through the crisp, clean air... only thick, white flakes of snow and a lazy spiral of smoke disturbed the amazing placidity of the scene... "Silent Night! Holy Night!" not a breath of air stirring; it was so quiet the priest spoke to himself in a hushed whisper... on Christmas day the words and music of "Silent Night" were sung for the first time... not once, but again and again... the hymn-like quality of the notes permeated the church and as the congregation knelt to worship, the song which it had sung seemed to hang in the air... it had become immortal... "Silent Night" is now known and loved in almost every civilized country... it has spread from Austria and Germany to all corners of the world... as long as there is a Christmas, there will be people who will sing it.

This And That: McKean county doctors ordered to report tomorrow for pre-induction physical examinations for the army are Dr. William J. Potts, Kane, and Dr. Charles D. Walther, Rochester, N. Y., who has been a resident surgeon at Bradford Hospital... C. L. Mayer was the speaker at the Rotary meeting today, his subject being "Food Industry"... Beginning with rehearsal this evening the Warren Barbershoppers have a busy ten days mapped out: Tuesday at seven they will carol at the Children's Home, and at 7:45 at the Warren State Hospital; Thursday at seven they will be at the Rouse Hospital and at 8:30 at the Watson Memorial Home, and on Wednesday, the 27th, the boys are planning a family party at the North Warren Community House... Our thanks to P. W. Van Camp, publicity representative of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Pittsburgh, for a Christmas greeting and pocket calendar; We have happy memories of a pleasant recollections of an interesting chat with VanCamp on the Pennsylvania Week special between Kane and Warren... Warren county is helping Pennsylvania maintain its position as a leader in the sale of U. S. Treasury Savings Bonds; during November the total sales in this county were $47,553.25... Housewives in this area in common with others across the country are paying more for bread and finger rolls than they were a week ago... Christmas displays erected by the Jaycees, lighted for the first time Saturday evening, are attracting wide attention and bringing to the organizations and sponsors many words of praise... Game officials report that wild turkeys are in dire need of food and urged sportsmen when possible to put out a few ears of corn; artificial food is necessary to keep the bird game alive during the winter months when snow is on the ground... Members of the Tineasta volunteer fire department have been advised by the American LaFrance Co., Elmira, N. Y., the new fire truck would be shipped from the factory December 20 via Pennsylvania Railroad to Oil City where members will take delivery... Business really started booming at the Warren post office Saturday morning with long lines formed in front of the parcel post windows throughout the morning and afternoon... Part of the rush for the boys in the sorting department was caused by the avalanche of parcels received from the New Process Company after the lifting of the embargo following announcement of the end of the railroad strike... And the fair weather brought out correspondingly large crowds to the shopping districts, both Friday evening and all day Saturday, many merchants reporting the best business of the season... A sports writer in the Corry Journal commenting on Friday night's game between the Beavers and the Dragons, has this to say: "The whistle toting of both officials was notoriously poor and proved a handicap to both clubs as far as playing good basketball was concerned"....

U. S. Ready to Put Bee On Income Tax Evaders

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—With still higher taxes inevitable, the U. S. Treasury has been doing some checking up on tax evaders. The purpose is to see if a few more dollars for defense couldn't be collected this hard way.

Over 52,000,000 returns have been filed in each of the last few years. It's impossible to do more than a superficial audit on them all. Common belief has been that only the big income returns were checked carefully, but this is said to be not so.

All returns which show certain tell-tale signs of deliberate fraud or incorrect reporting are given a close scrutiny. Experience over the years has taught income tax examiners where to look for evasions and how to spot them.

Recently, however, the Treasury realized that it needed a more scientific method for selecting a small number of returns for close audit. As described by Asst. Secretary of Treasury John S. Graham, this resulted in an "Audit Control Program."

First step was a scientific sampling method which turned up 162,000 out of a whole year's returns. Those returns which were selected for audit were picked by number, without any knowledge of who the taxpayers were, or how much tax they had paid.

BUT the most surprising discovery of all was that one out of every four individual income tax returns audited was in error by $2 or more in tax liability. In other words, 13,000,000 out of the 52,000,000 returns filed that year must have been in need of correction. And nine out of ten of these errors were against the government.

In still other words, these errors must have lost the government about $1,300,000,000, since the average understatement on the returns checked was $114.

The other side of the picture is that the 10 per cent, or the 1,300,000 individuals who overstated their income contributed $90,000,000 that the government wasn't entitled to.

Examples of mistakes made by people in reporting their income taxes—as given by Secretary Gibson—show that out and out criminals in numbers, and are usually caught. The people who try to defraud the government of tax income are more numerous. But the big bulk are just ordinary people who apparently try to get away with something—just once, or perhaps oftener. Temptation and greed are a little too much to cope with.

THERE was, for instance, the case of the man who insisted that he had only one bank account. His wife, who was sitting in on the interview with the examiner, spoke up and admonished her mate that he had several, and named the towns. The taxpayer tried to brush aside his wife's remarks. "Don't you know you can go to jail for not telling the truth?" she asked. As a result of her honesty, the correct tax was computed and the case closed without trouble.

Many defrauders give themselves away. There is the case of a jeweler who falsified his books and buried $100,000 in unreported income in his cellar. One day he dug it up and to his horror found that the money had molded. When he tried to exchange the bills for new ones, the odor of fraud was so strong that he was caught.

Another case was that of a man who claimed big exemptions for entertainment. A check-up showed that the man had thrown big parties, all right. His excuse was that if he hadn't spent the money that way, he would have had to pay it to the government in taxes. It hadn't occurred to him that he was a slacker, and that he was letting others carry his responsibilities as a taxpayer.

Attractive Yule Decorations Found In Public School Buildings In The Borough

Wednesday is the big day for students of all public schools of the borough, last day of classes until January 3, but a particularly noteworthy one for youngsters of the lower grades. While some grade buildings are presenting programs to which parents and friends are invited, every building will be having its own parties and fun Wednesday afternoon.

A tour of the town shows special decorating projects at every building from senior and junior high down to the kindergarten rooms.

At Seneca building on the South Side, the children have made decorations for a beautifully decorated tree placed in the hall and room parties are anticipated for Wednesday. The youngsters will entertain parents and friends with an operetta, "Toys That Had To Wait," in the Warren Grange Hall at 7:15 p. m. Tuesday and extend a cordial invitation to all interested. There are no window displays in this building, since pupils are all too young to work out such a project.

All this past week pupils at the McClintock building on the West Side have been hearing Christmas music in the halls. A great deal of art work has been done in the way of friezes, murals and construction projects, with decorations and a tree in each room and wreaths marking the doors. A special program will be presented tomorrow afternoon in conjunction with the PTA meeting at 1:30 o'clock and on Wednesday there will be carol singing in the halls and a party in each room.

In the central part of town, East street building has not decorated its windows but has trees in all the rooms, with students doing the decorating. Most of the trees were provided by the PTA, including a large one for the hall, while kindergarten youngsters got a tree from Yule Tree Farm. A carol sing in the hall and classroom parties will conclude holiday activities Wednesday afternoon.

Crossing the Conewango Creek to Johnson building, the three windows on the Jefferson avenue side present a continuous scene of choir boys, a director and an organ. A lighted tree has been placed in the hall and other decorations have been made by the various classes. Here, too, there will be a Wednesday afternoon carol sing and classroom parties. The special Christmas program for this building was presented for PTA members and guests last week.

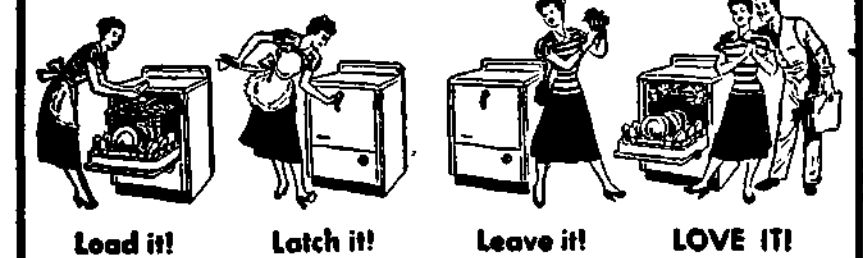

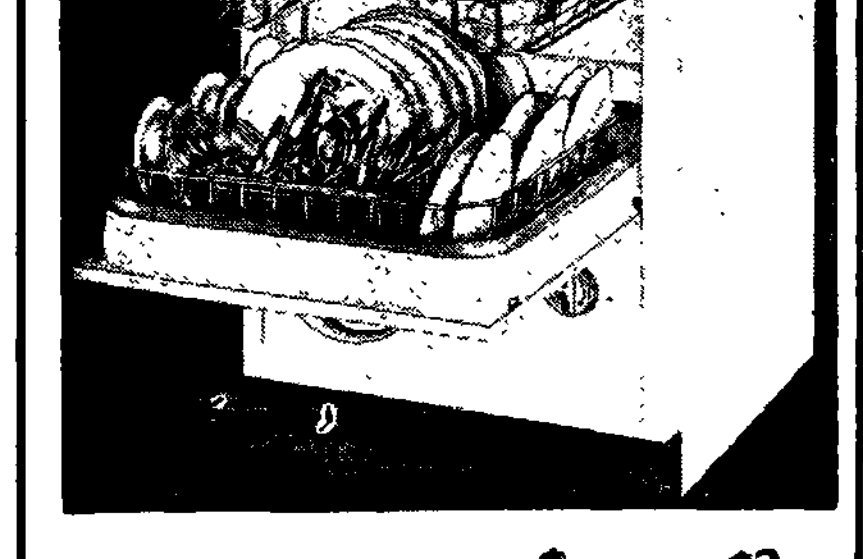

Home street pupils entertained parents with a program in the auditorium Friday afternoon and will have parties about the classroom trees on Wednesday. A Santa surrounded by children, with candles, evergreens and ribbon, and a "Merry Christmas" legend decorate the big six-by-nine foot bulletin board, front windows bear village scenes, while side windows have carolers, bells and wreaths. All classes in the building have made gifts for their parents and added some special touch to home rooms. The kindergarten youngsters have made stockings and decorated a fireplace, fifth graders have a sleigh and model of Rudolph, the red-nosed reindeer, and the sixth grade has a large "Merry Christmas" on the blackboard and spatter-painted Christmas cards on the bulletin board.

Back-tracking and going east on Pennsylvania avenue, South street windows are decorated with candles, carol singers and poinsettias. The PTA has placed a large tree in the hall and provided lights and each room has its own tree. There will be a building party Wednesday afternoon, with a program, carol singing and a movie, and individual rooms will have special functions.

Finally, Lacy fifth and sixth graders have prepared windows in the two front rooms upstairs, with a Madonna, Santa, Rudolph, and carolers, and additional paintings on windows of the office and teachers room. A big tree decorates the auditorium and smaller trees are carolers, and additional paintings in the classrooms. Each grade, including the kindergarten, will have a part in the program to be given at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon, while on Wednesday each class will have a party and there will be singing of familiar carols.

CAPITALISM

Nothing is superior except by comparison

WHEN we compare the conditions of nations and people in anti-capitalistic countries with the security, prosperity, happiness and well-being of our people under United States capitalism, we appreciate our privilege of living in a capitalistic, democratic country.

The basic principle of the free, capitalistic system which we have developed in our country affords opportunity to the individual who is willing to use his talents to the extent of his ability and desire to produce—to accumulate something for investment in a home, a farm, in savings accounts, bonds and other securities, life insurance, the education of his children, and comforts of life—and become a capitalist.

The following facts give us a deep appreciation of what capitalism has done and is doing for our country and its people.

Private capital in the form of taxes and purchases of United States Government Bonds made it possible for us to spend three hundred thirty billion dollars in carrying out our part of the program in winning World War II. This, of course, is unimportant when we consider the loss of life and permanent and partial disability which our youth sustained and which cannot be measured in dollars.

Our participation in World War II has left us today with a national debt of two hundred fifty-seven billion dollars, but on the credit side we find that our annual national income, at the current rate, is equal to 90% of our total national debt. Of this total national debt, thirty-nine billion dollars are in treasury obligations owned by Government agencies, so our net debt is slightly over two hundred eighteen billion dollars.

The United States free enterprise business system is operating at its highest level, furnishing employment to sixty-two million people at the highest hourly and weekly earnings ever recorded. Stockholders and corporations, after paying the highest peacetime taxes in the post-war years, have had the highest net average earnings in history from their investment.

Our farmers had cash income from marketing last year amounting to twenty-seven billion five hundred million dollars, the highest on record.

Total farm assets of our country amount to slightly more than one hundred twenty-seven billion dollars, against which there is an indebtedness of only twelve billion four hundred million dollars. Thus our farmers have ownership equity of over 90 per cent in their farms.

In non-farm homes, counting apartment buildings with four or less families, and all valued at a total of two hundred billion dollars, our home owners have an equity of one hundred fifty-eight billion dollars—a substantial ownership of 79 per cent.

Therefore, as a result of the opportunity provided by our free-enterprise capitalistic system, the people of our nation have a free and clear ownership in their homes and farms of 83.4 per cent.

Our people have savings of more than one hundred thirty-six billion dollars in government bonds and savings accounts.

An additional ninety-seven billion dollars are on deposit in commercial bank accounts.

Our men and women have a cash investment of sixty billion dollars in life insurance policies.

A high percentage of our working people are provided with unemployment insurance, sickness, accident and retirement benefits, financed by employers, employees and government. Others who are not covered by these plans and who find themselves in need are provided for by governmental and social institutions.

We are increasing our efforts to improve the standard of living of the people in the lower income brackets.

The United States, with only six per cent of the world population and seven per cent of its land area, under its democratic, capitalistic system, before World War II, produced forty-seven per cent of the world's manufactured goods, but what is more important, ninety per cent of that production was consumed within our own borders. Today we are producing over fifty per cent of the world's manufactured goods, of which a substantial percentage is for other countries.

Capitalism is backing freedom of worship and providing increasing educational opportunities by constantly giving more and more support to the two things upon which our democratic, cultural civilization depends—spiritual and educational values.

We have a permanent investment in churches and schools of eighteen billion five hundred million dollars and are spending annually eight billion dollars for religious and educational purposes.

Membership in the churches is increasing at a much faster rate than the increase in the population, and in our Sunday Schools at an even greater rate.

In the past thirty years, elementary school enrollment has increased 13.5 per cent, high school enrollment 146.1 per cent and college and university enrollment 351.6 per cent.

Our public school expenditures per pupil enrolled have gone up from $48.02 in 1920 to $132.06 in 1947, or 175.0 per cent.

Since 1920 the population of our country has increased 43 per cent and the investment in school and college equipment has increased 571 per cent.

Since the beginning of our industrial and scientific development in the early 1800's, the capitalistic system, due to individual freedom, initiative and ingenuity, has given the world more of the comforts and conveniences of life than mankind had received in the previous 5000 years of civilization.

Under this system our people as a whole are happy and united, are increasing their capital and enjoying a fuller spiritual, cultural and material life.

Today our scientific and industrial knowledge and experience in the various fields of peaceful activity are open to the rest of the world, and in this respect we have joined with other like-minded nations in contributing to the technical assistance program of the United Nations.

No nation, no individual, no venture, no private or public institution, no program for the welfare of people can progress without capital.

It is each individual's duty to contribute to the preservation, protection and improvement of our democratic civilization on a basis which is sound and fair to all our people.

All classes in the building have made gifts for their parents and added some special touch to home rooms. The kindergarten youngsters have made stockings and decorated a fireplace, fifth graders have a sleigh and model of Rudolph, the red-nosed reindeer, and the sixth grade has a large "Merry Christmas" on the blackboard and spatter-painted Christmas cards on the bulletin board.

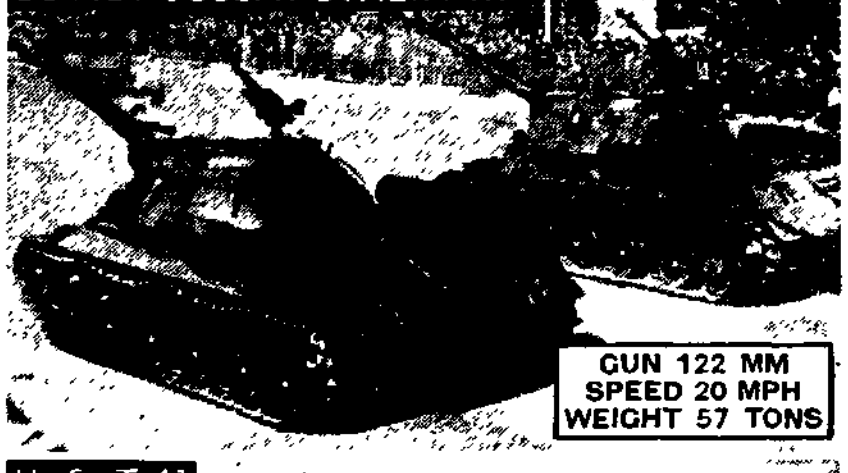

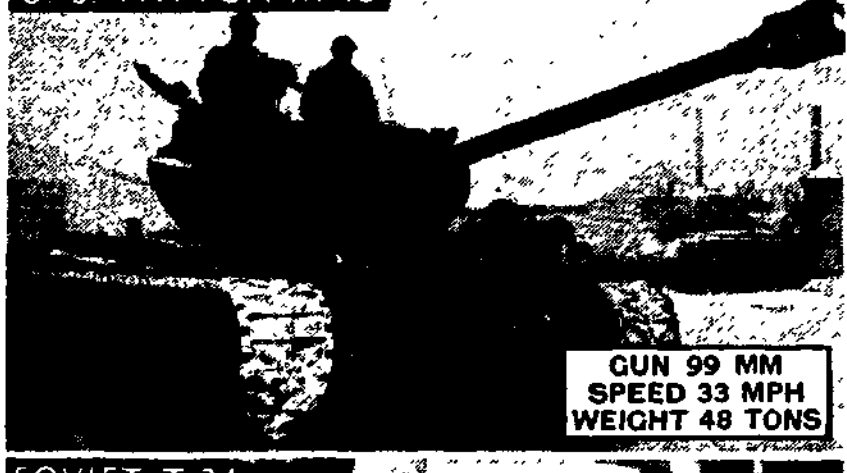

Back-tracking and going east on Pennsylvania avenue, South street windows are decorated with candles, carol singers and poinsettias. The PTA has placed a large tree in the hall and provided lights and each room has its own tree. There will be a building party Wednesday afternoon, with a program, carol singing and a movie, and individual rooms will have special functions.

Finally, Lacy fifth and sixth graders have prepared windows in the two front rooms upstairs, with a Madonna, Santa, Rudolph, and carolers, and additional paintings on windows of the office and teachers room. A big tree decorates the auditorium and smaller trees are carolers, and additional paintings in the classrooms. U. S. STEPS ON GAS IN TANK RACE—Destruction spread by Red tanks in opening phase of Korean war put spotlight on U. S. tank output. Army has ordered production on the secret M-47 medium landcruiser, a modified and "improved" version of the M-46 Patton. Army spokesman also disclosed production will start early next year on the still unvelled T-41 (T for test model) tank, "superior to anything we know of in a comparable class." U. S. still lacks tank equal to Russia's mighty Joseph Stalin III in firepower and armor. North Koreans spearheaded their invasion with low-silhouetted, wide-treaded T-34, judged by experts to be the best tank out of World War II. The T-41 may be the answer.

Patricia Ann Lawson-Herman Stanton Wed Saturday In First Baptist Church

Christmas decorations throughout First Baptist church, with baskets of white pom poms and mums and pink snapdragons, formed a pretty setting Saturday afternoon for the wedding of Patricia Ann Lawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thad Lawson, 241 Pennsylvania avenue, west, and Herman Stanton, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Stanton, Akeley.

The Rev. Milton G. Perry performed the double ring ceremony by candlelight at four o'clock. Harriet Lund was at the organ to play traditional wedding marches, also "O Promise Me," "I Love You Truly" and "O Perfect Love." She was accompanied, also, for the bride's cousin, Melvin Kelly, Erie, who sang "Because" and Grieg's "I Love Thee."

The bride's gown of white satin was a princess model with sweetheart neckline, flaring skirt and long train. Corded piping trimmed the waistline and long sleeves. Her three-quarter veil of illusion net was held with a band of orange blossoms and seed pearls and a pearl necklace was her only jewelry. Topping her white Bible was her going-away corsage of white pom poms.

She was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Calvin Lawson, who wore pink satin and lace and carried pink and white carnations. Her gown was styled with lace over satin for the bodice and the high net yoke was finished with net draping. Matching satin and lace were used for her handkerchiefs. Kenneth Stanton, Akeley, attended his brother as best man and ushers were Paul Dudgeon, Jamestown, N. Y., and Dale Allmendinger.

Mrs. Lawson chose a steel blue frock, with accessories in a lighter shade of blue, while Mrs. Stanton wore aqua and wine color. Their flowers were pink roses and stevia.

Mrs. Grover Lind was in charge of the reception which followed immediately in the church parlors, where the bride's table, all in white, was set with linen cloth and candles in crystal holders. The square cake, decorated in white and topped with bridal figures in miniature, was served by Mrs. Wayne Campbell, while Joyce Stanton, sister of the bridegroom, and Martha Benson poured.

Among the 150 guests were relatives and friends from Erie, Corry, Waterford, Celoron, Jamestown, Frewsburg, Butler, Youngsville, Buffalo and Kane.

After a wedding trip to New York City, the couple will reside in Russell. For traveling, the bride chose a dress of winter white and brown accessories.

Graduate of Warren High School, Mrs. Stanton attended Clarion Teachers College for one year and is employed by the Bell Telephone Company.

Mr. Lander, alumnus of Lander High, served with the Army during World War II, with more than three years' duty in New Caledonia. He is a Penetec employee.

Honoring the bride-elect with parties have been Mrs. Wayne Campbell and Mrs. Moore; Patty Johnson and Mrs. H. Peterson; Mrs. E. A. Stanton and Harriet Lund.

We Can Fight Against Old Age With New Hobbies and Friends

WE must "fight against the tyranny of birthdays," says Dr. Frederic D. Zeman, chief of medical service at a home for the aged. Now there's a challenge, not just for those who are already old, but for everyone who has told youth goodbye.

But how can we fight the "tyranny of birthdays"? How can we keep from letting birthdays get us down?

There are several sound and sure ways. The first is to live for today and tomorrow and not look longingly back to the past. The second is to replace outgrown interests with new ones. This should be a conscious and calculated effort. If you've had to give up tennis, then take up golf. If you've had to give up golf, what about gardening? Don't ever let an interest go without replacing it with another.

The same is true of friends. Nothing is more pitiful than the old person who has few friends left, because through the years he never bothered to replace the friends who moved away, grew indifferent, or died.

There's no reason why an older person can't have as many friends as a young person. But friends have to be replaced as you go along. You can't wait until you are old and suddenly make a new circle of friends.

LOOK FOR NEW INTERESTS

AND you should keep busy always. If some jobs grow too hard, it is necessary to either look for easier ways of doing them, or to look for new jobs. If you can't work for profit you can at least work for the joy of accomplishment.

But the best way of all perhaps to avoid the "tyranny of birthdays" is to refuse to grow self-centered, interested in nobody but yourself. The happy older person is the one who accepts the limitations of old age without dwelling tragically on what has happened to him. He turns his mind to other people and other things.

Sugar Grove, Dec. 15 — There were 22 women present for the WSCS meeting at the Methodist church, with Mrs. Walter Sweeney presiding and Mrs. F. A. Schoonover presenting the program.

One new member was welcomed and all were asked to send cards to Mrs. Margaret Woodside, 836 Maley street, Daytona Beach, Fla., and Mrs. Earl Clark, Southern Pines, S. C.

Mrs. Harold Barnes was chairman of the committee which served refreshments. Christmas decorations were used throughout the church parlors.

Swede Nilsen, 1006 East 26th Street, Houston, Texas, now claims he is the hottest hardware salesman in town. Swede says that in order for a man to do a top-notch job of selling he has to really feel good, and Swede says he is now taking HADACOL, and believes he has never felt better. He found that by taking HADACOL he overcame deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron. Here is Mr. Nilsen's statement: "Before I started taking HADACOL—that was a good bit ago—I was just plain lazy. I felt groggy and tired all the time. Seems like it was hard for me to lift my feet. When a man feels that way he naturally doesn't do good work. What really gave me a bad time was my eating habits—I would go all day sometimes without a square meal. What really was strange was that while I was so listless and sleepy during the day—I couldn't sleep at night. Imagine rolling all night long. But that's all changed since I have been taking HADACOL. I guess I've taken from 6 to 10 bottles of HADACOL—and believe you me, there is no comparison now to the way I used to feel—I feel fine! HADACOL certainly is wonderful. I get a wonderful night's sleep—and eat—why I swear I eat everything in sight. Yes, sir, HADACOL sure is wonderful. And you can bet your life I recommend HADACOL to all my friends."

HADACOL is simply remarkable in the way it has helped folks of all ages—yes, thousands of men, women and children who have been plagued with deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron. HADACOL is that wonderful new preparation promising blessed relief for stomach distress, nervousness, if caused by an upset stomach, vague aches and pains or a general run-down condition when they are due to such deficiencies.

HADACOL Attacks Real Cause
Remember, HADACOL is not a quick-acting product that only attacks the symptoms of the miseries, but actually relieves the real cause of pains and aches due to such deficiencies—Yes, and continued use of HADACOL helps prevent the miseries from coming back.

The most important thing about HADACOL is that you get these precious Vitamins in liquid form, which means that they are quickly absorbed and dispatched to the blood stream, ready to go right to work. HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every body organ, yes, to every part of your body.

HADACOL Can Help You

Don't go through life putting up with a stomach that is easily upset, that causes you gas pains, heartburn, sour risings after meals, a stomach that will not digest food properly, yes, if due to lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, you can overcome the deficiencies which are causing these miseries by taking HADACOL, which contains those precious Vitamins.
Start taking HADACOL right away and if you do not get the results you expect your money will be immediately refunded. HADACOL costs only $1.25 for a trial size bottle. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. There is only one true and genuine HADACOL. If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order it direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana.

Cold Frame Shelters Young Garden Plants All Winter

Suggestions for Winter Use of Cold Frame.

Though used for thousands of years by gardeners, cold frames are just as useful now as in the days of the Roman empire. Originally pits in which plants could be protected on cold nights by a covering, which was removed when the sun shone, the chief difference today is that glass, or a translucent plastic, serves for covering.

Every complete garden needs a cold frame. It is a most useful tool all year around. If you lack this aid to garden success, fall is a good time to build it, and the illustration shows how it may be constructed and put to immediate use for rooting winter flowering bulbs.

Hyacinths, early tulips, narcissi and daffodils are the principal ones which need a dark, cool situation to encourage early root formation. Bury them in the frame bed in the pots you expect to grow them in, and when roots have developed sufficiently bring them indoors for the quick growth of the tops and blossoms.

The frosts of late fall bring to mind problems of harboring pansy and perennial seedlings. If you plant them late they will no doubt need some additional protection, and the cold frame will provide it. The best all-around method is to pot the plants, and set them into the frame. Such treatment assures a few more weeks of growth, and will enable them to benefit from extra warmth in the spring and get an early start.

Perennials which are difficult to grow without this protection include the foxgloves with their stately spires, the Canterbury bells and delphiniums. Although they are perfectly hardy so far as cold weather is concerned, they are very susceptible to wet weather, and thawing and freezing. There is only one safe way to grow them in cold climates and that is by wintering them in a cold frame, where they will be safe from wet and the changes in temperature will be tempered by the glass of the frame.

Chapter of Future Business Leaders

In Warren High School, the business department is organizing a chapter of Future Business Leaders of America, a national organization for high school business students.

Members of business classes have elected 14 students to form a steering committee, whose task is to draw up a constitution to be sent to national headquarters for approval.

On this committee are Beverly Budd, Marilyn Carlson, Frances Gleason, Joanne Gnagay, Frances Gruttaria, Patricia Hawthorne, Jean McDaniel, Alice Morrison, Joyce Ruhlman, Janice Wilson, Robert Burgeson, Ronald McCain, Robert Pratz and Ronald Snyder.

The faculty of the business department is helping the students with their organization.

Committee May Go To Peiping For Peace Conference

Rau, accompanied by the Jam Saber, Maharajah of Nawanagar, dined with Wu just three hours after the Chinese Communist had denounced the U. N.'s plan for a cease fire in Korea as an American trap to get a breathing spell for a military build up.

WU also told a jammed press conference at Lake Success that his government might be willing to advise its so-called volunteers in Korea to come home, but indicated this would only be done after complete surrender by the U. N. to all Chinese Communist demands in Asia.

These include U. N. membership, withdrawal of American troops from Korea and the Seventh Fleet from Formosa, and the surrender of Chiang Kai-Shek's last-ditch island stronghold to the Reds.

Despite the truculent tone of WU's statement, Rau appeared still optimistic about chances for a peaceful solution, and both other committee members declared they had not given up hope.

New Arrangement For Holiday Leaves

(From Page One)

Only three-day passes had been expected, since the army canceled general 10-day vacations for men in its training camps.

Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, 28th commander, explained:

"Because of possible interruption of train schedules due to the strike, I have decided to extend the holiday vacations for my personnel to five days in order that they may spend the maximum time at their homes."

General Strickler said training schedules will be adjusted to make up the time lost.

Half the division can leave from Dec. 23-27, the other half Dec. 30-Jan. 3.

Most of the men in the 28th are from Pennsylvania.

Police disclosed that shortly before Mrs. Cohen was shot Saturday night, a 17-year-old youth, John Diener, was fired at by a mysterious assailant.

Diener, waiting for a bus with a companion, Rudolph Heller, 18, felt something "whip through" the rear of his topcoat. An examination showed a bullet had ripped through the back of the coat.

Hope Rises For An Early Settlement Of Rail Dispute

Washington, Dec. 18—(AP)—Hope rose today for an early settlement of the long wage and hour dispute between the nation's railroads and four operating unions. The White House pressed them to come to terms.

The pace of negotiations was stepped up even as the effects of a strike by one group involved faded. Some 10,000 yardmen walked off their jobs for three days last week, tying up freight and Christmas mail in key rail terminals, but the jam was clearing rapidly.

Presidential assistant John R. Steelman kept the negotiators in session until 2:45 a. m. today, and reported "some progress." The union and management representatives faced each other across the bargaining table for the first time since August, when the roads were seized by the government to avert a strike. Steelman arranged another session this afternoon (2 p. m. EST).

The yardmen for the most part went back to work, although about 100 notified three railroads in Toledo they were too sick to report. One union official said their action constituted a wildcat strike.

Members of the same Brotherhood of Railroad Yardmen had returned to work in other cities under pressure from President Truman, federal courts and union officials.

Thirty-one locals and 45 officers of the brotherhood were summoned to a federal court hearing in Chicago today to show why the union should not be held in contempt of court. The government claims the union showed contempt by ignoring court orders to end the strike.

The post office department threw 12,000 additional workers into the fight to break the mail jam. It said it hopes all Xmas packages will be delivered in time despite what appears to be the biggest flow of holiday mail in history.

In the meantime, efforts are being made by interested citizens to have more streets designated and set aside for protected coasting.

Three streets have been so designated, including McPherson, Division and Maple. Protected coasting was the subject of a conference held this afternoon at the municipal building between borough officials and citizens interested in providing facilities for children to enjoy themselves. A number of "wooden horses" to be used as barricades have been donated for the purpose and it is hoped that with the continuance of favorable weather more streets will be set aside with proper safeguards provided.

Deputy foreign ministers and military chiefs of staff of the Atlantic pact signers agreed in London last week to recommend that the European army include about 150,000 Germans, organized into units of about 5,000 men each, but without heavy weapons or a German general staff.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, arriving here from Washington in President Truman's personal plane, told newsmen "we are determined to find a solution" to the problem of defending the west.

Bad weather which closed in the airfield delayed his arrival here several hours, during which he stopped briefly in Prestwick, Scotland, and Paris.

Dragon Cagers Notch 4th Win By Edging Corry Beavers, 35-32

Warren High Dragons chalked up their fourth victory in five starts Friday night when they edged the Corry Beavers, 35 to 32, in the Corry court.

It was the second win of the season over Corry for the Dragons, the first meeting between the teams on Beatty court having ended in a 36-28 triumph for Warren.

The Dragons play their third consecutive game away from home tomorrow night when they go to the Hilltop for a clash with Kane. This series over the past several years has been one of the tightest in the whole district, with only one or two points separating the teams. The Dragons won the first game, 36-28, and the Beavers dropped a 63-46 verdict to the strong Punxsutawney five Friday night.

Weird scoring marked the Friday night clash between Warren and Corry. The Massamens plucked for 12 points in the first period and 11 points in the third, but could garner only six in the second and fourth periods. The Beavers had three-point performances in the first and third stanzas, while notching 2 in the second round and 14 in the homestretch.

Warren employed a pressing defense out front to good advantage, forcing the home team to fire away at the hoop at long range. At the same time, the Dragons used a deliberate attack with the majority of their shots being taken from within the foul circle.

The Beavers spotted Warren a 12-3 advantage in the first quarter, and then rallied in the second frame to whittle the lead to three notches in 18-15 scoring by intermission.

As the third period got under way, Hodge McLean converted a pair of free throws to trim Warren's advantage to a single point. But at that point, the Blue and White took over and by the end of the frame had extended its lead to 29-18. Paul Gordon was the big man in this Warren surge, netting two baskets and a free throw.

Once again, Corry rallied and had closed the gap to three points by the final whistle. McLean and Elchynski led this last-ditch stand on the part of the Beavers with McLean slotting four free throws and his team mate racking up three double-doubles and a brace of fouls.

Elchynski grabbed high scoring honors for the evening with 12 points, giving him a total of 64 in four games. Gordon was top point-maker for Warren with nine.

Style Shop Seeks 5th Straight Win In Y Floor Loop

On the "Y" City League scheduled for tonight the Ramblers and Smith and Lawton Atlantic Hippo at 7 o'clock and the Style Shop and New Process at 8 o'clock.

The Atlantic five was pushed into second place by the Style Shop last Thursday, but will still be a tough opponent for the Ramblers who are currently sharing a three-way tie for fourth position.

In the second match tonight, the Style Shop will again be the favorites as league leaders with four straight wins. The Process has a nice scoring combination in Fran Wagner and Don Baldensperger, however the latter may not see action tonight because of a broken hand received last week.

Jim Peterson, of the Ramblers, is still leading in the league scoring race with 52 points on 18 field goals and 14 free throws in four games. Stu Smith places second for the Youngsville Merchants with an aggregation of 61 points in five games.

In individual team scoring the Style Shop has an average of over 68 points per game with a high total of 275 points in four games played.

Haberdashers To Face Elks Squad

The Style Shop cage team will battle the Franklin Elks on Beatty Gym Wednesday in what should be one of the best attractions of the current basketball season. In a previous meeting between the two teams this season, the locals absorbed a 68 to 53 beating by the fast, aggressive Franklin five.

The Elks are paced by Paul Berry, who a few seasons back led the Penn State Nittany Lions attack and was runnerup for high scoring honors for all colleges in the state. Some of the other players familiar to local fans are Spangler, Cardy, Kockler and Oil City's Blaney. There is also a remote possibility that Ted Marchibroda may be seen in uniform with the Elks.

Still smarting from their defeat the Haberdashers are set to avenge the set-back. Making up the Warren lineup are Jack Eaton, of W. & J., Gail Nelson, twice second team all-state guard, George Hesch, Warmie Check, Bob Simpson, Rod Kerchner, of Kane High's state championship team, Ruben Fischer, Ed Lindberg, Dick Sealise and Jack White.

Game time will be 8:30, preceded by a preliminary at 7:15.

Sheffield Cagers Down Youngsville Floormen, 57 to 37

Height and experience paid off for the Sheffield Wolverines Friday evening when they invaded Youngsville and took the Eagles by a 57 to 37 score in a game which saw Youngsville make a desperate bid for a win with 20 points in the final quarter.

Good ball handling, plus the fact that the Eagles threw the ball away frequently during the first quarter, enabled Sheffield to take a 20 to 6 lead. Scoring in the second frame was almost even, but the Wolverines got away to another big third quarter jump.

It was a clean game with no one out on fouls. Sheffield's shift from zone to man for man defense, and back again, confused the Eagles and resulted in a low score until the fourth frame when Lefty Haight, Eagle mainstay began to hit the hoop. He counted for 21 points. Ensenhauer, rangy center for Sheffield, hit for 27.

In the curtain raiser, little Eagles also dropped their half of the bill by a score of 28 to 21. Callahan was high for Sheffield with five field goals and a free toss for 11 points; while McAllister and Danuski shared Youngsville scoring honors with five each.

MILK RIVER RANGE

by LEE FLOREN

"This wasn't any legal killing," said Buck.

Chapter One

AT MIDNIGHT the storm caught them deep in the badlands. Driving rain slashed across the buttes and jagged flashes of lightning lit the terrain. They were strangers in this northern Montana country, and tall Buck McKee, tired from the saddle, called a halt to their slow progress.

Squat Tortilla Joe, the Mexican, took the rain and the subsequent delay stoically, settling on his thick haunches and chewing on a cold tortilla he had carried in his saddle pocket.

Silence held them, then, broken only by the wind and the rain. Finally the Mexican started to chuckle.

"Of Jim Tuttle, he weel be glad to see us, huh? An' surprised too, you betcha. But his letter—me, I do not like the way he say some theings in it. They have trouble ahead, no?"

"His letter said so."

Stretching his right leg, Buck gave their predicament serious thought. Old Jim Tuttle had written to them down in New Mexico, where Jim ran the Spoke K outfit three years back. Coming to Montana, Jim had bought a Milk River spread. He needed more range, he said, for his three growing sons. And now, from his letter, Jim Tuttle was in trouble, and plenty of it.

Jim Tuttle had been married late to a young woman, Hazel—but Hazel soon became Ma Tuttle; three sons appeared in quick succession. Hank, the oldest, had been killed by a bad broncho, right after coming to Montana.

Joe, the middle boy, had also been killed. A shoulder, loosened by the rain, had crashed down, killing both Joe and his horse.

And now, according to reports, Jim and Ma Tuttle had only one son—young Martin—left to comfort them in their old age.

Mart Tuttle had been about seventeen when Buck saw him last. A tall, wiry youth, hot-headed and arrogant he had been well-marked by his fiery red hair. When his brothers called him Carrot Top, it meant either a fight or an apology. And invariably it ended in a fight, a fight that old Jim Tuttle had to separate and break up by sheer force.

OLD Jim Tuttle had given them instructions. They were to follow the slope down the Beaver Creek, travel down Beaver to Milk River. There, in the cottonwoods at the conflux of the two streams, was the headquarters of the Lazy N's, the ranch Tuttle had purchased.

Tortilla Joe's grimy thumb jabbed toward the basin below.

"There she ees—Meek! Reever Valley," he announced.

The valley lay below them, miles wide. A rolling, undulant land marked by grass and greasewood and sagebrush—a cowman's paradise. Little did it seem possible that gunsmoke and trouble lurked deep in the pastoral scene below.

"Look," said Tortilla Joe.

Below them, too far away for accurate vision, a group of riders

Chapter 2

PUZZLED, Buck watched the men drag their mounts to a halt, encircling him and Tortilla Joe. The big sheriff watched steadily as they eyed him.

"Sim Hannegan, huh? And plumb dead too? He invited his gaze on Buck and Tortilla. "Why did you hang Sim?"

"We didn't," said Buck.

One man—a heavy, stolid cowman—sat his broncho slightly apart, his gun level in his huge-knuckled fist. Buck saw that he rode a dapple-gray gelding, and he remembered the man whom he and Tortilla had seen leading the gang that had ridden out of town out of these same cottonwoods.

This man said, "I think he's lying, Sheriff."

"I don't need your advice, Len Cavanaugh."

"We didn't hang this gent, Sheriff," said Buck. "We're strangers to this country. We're heading for old Jim Tuttle's spread."

"You ride for Tuttle?" asked the sheriff.

"We aim to," said Buck. "No law against it is there?"

"That's all the evidence you need, Sheriff," Len Cavanaugh broke in.

"Not so fast," growled the sheriff. He spoke again to Buck and Tortilla Joe. "I'm Sheriff Ike Jones. Sim Hannegan, the dead man here, had a few words in town last night with Mart Tuttle, Jim Tuttle's youngest boy. Young Tuttle wanted to tie into Shuffie Watson, here. He designated a man with a scar."

"Where does that put us?" asked Buck.

"If you work for the Tuttle Lazy N-S," murmured the sheriff, "it puts you in jail. Come on, now, shoot the works—talk!"

Buck repeated his story.

"Jim Tuttle's been hiring gunhands lately, Sheriff," Shuffie Watson growled. "I say this tall, hairpin leg, and lies like a rug."

"Watch that gun, Sheriff, and go easy on that trigger," Buck said coldly. "No man is calling me a liar."

"I am," said Shuffie.

BUCK struck suddenly—a clean, hard blow that landed on Watson's jaw. The blow drove the gunman out of saddle and he hit the ground sitting down, his spidery legs spread out. With a howl of rage, he started his draw.

"Lay that gun down," snapped the sheriff.

Watson jerked his head around, stared into Ike Jones' gun barrel. Slowly, muttering savagely, he got to his feet.

Shuffie Watson sidled to his horse, walking like a crab. There was hate in this man's stiaish eyes, and Buck new he had made a dangerous enemy.

"Take 'em to jail, Sheriff," said Cavanaugh.

The lawman scowled "Reckon I'll have to, men. You willing to hand over your guns?"

"Okay," said Buck.

Sheriff Jones rode close, took their guns, and put them in one of his saddlebags. Shuffie Watson and the Cavanaugh rider cut down the dead Sim Hannegan.

"Let's ride," ordered Sheriff Ike Jones.

Buck's mind, running ahead, sought some explanation of the situation. Two things were clear to him, but the rest was more or less muddled. Len Cavanaugh had been the leader of the gang that had lynched Sim Hannegan. Evidently, looking backwards, he had seen Buck and Tortilla Joe ride from the foothills, heading toward the lynching spot.

The distance to Beaverton, the way he figured, was about ten miles. Watson and Cavanaugh could not have had time to ride that far and then bring the sheriff back.

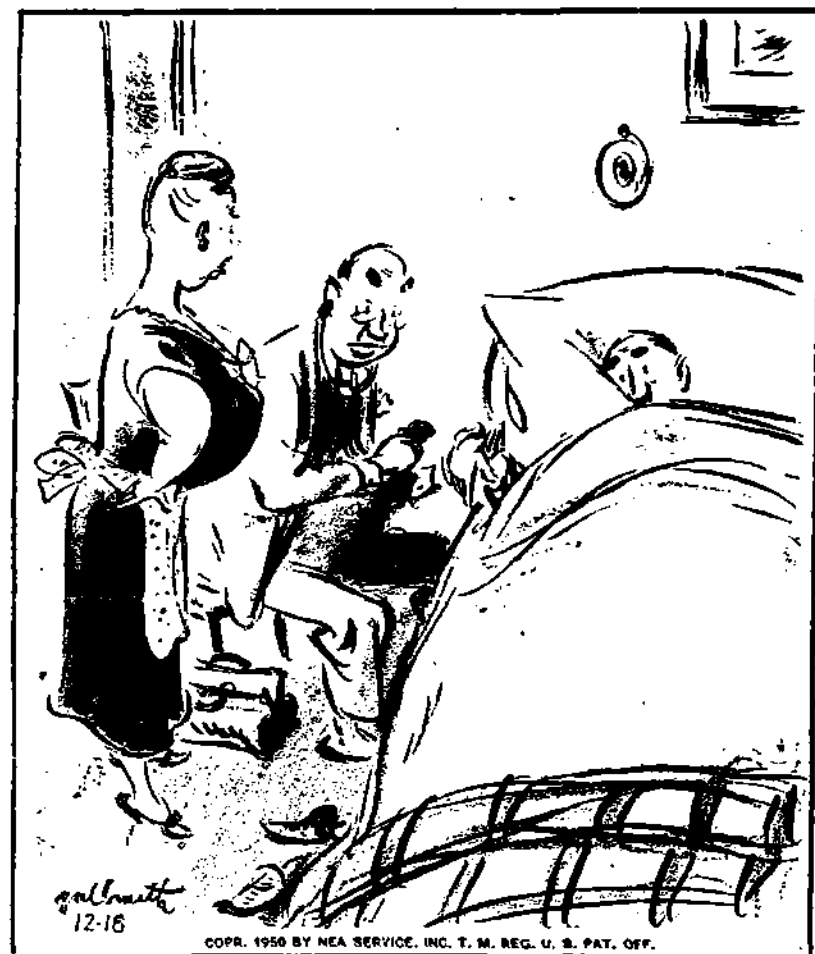

"How come you were scouting this neck of the timber, Sheriff?" he asked.

"Me—I was trailing Sim Hannegan. You see, after I judged young Mart Tuttle last midnight, Sim took Mart's horse out of my barn, and lit out with the critter. That's horse stealing, I call it."

"Where did you meet Cavanaugh and Watson?"

"Well, them and this other rider—Blackjack Swanson—was riding range, and when I told 'em I was

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service
Like many other people, bridge players often waste a great deal of time arguing about the wrong things. For example, when today's hand was actually played, North and South went into a long post-mortem about the bidding. However, nobody had a word to say about the way the hand was played.

West opened the nine of spades, and dummy won with the king. A trump was led next from dummy, and East took his ace of hearts at once. He returned his singleton nine of clubs. West winning with the ace.

Naturally, West recognized this lead as a singleton, and he therefore returned the queen of clubs. The king of clubs was played from dummy, and East ruffed. East made a safe exit with his last trump, since a diamond return might be dangerous. South then led out the rest of his trumps, hoping for some sort of squeeze. Nothing worked, however, and South had to give up a diamond trick at the end.

When the play had ended, North pointed out that three no-trump would have been a cinch even if East miraculously led a club.

(Against any other lead three no-trump would have been even easier). North insisted that South should have bid three no-trump instead of jumping to four hearts. South maintained just as stoutly that game at a good six-card major suit is usually safer than a game at no-trump. "I had no way of knowing about that ruff," said South. "Without that ruff four hearts would have been ice cold."

North was right in the bidding argument. Three no-trump would have been an excellent contract, and South had no reason to fear it. However, South should have made his contract of four hearts in spite of the club ruff.

The play was perfectly correct, up to the trick at which West led the queen of clubs. But then it

South that East was going to ruff the trick. Therefore declarer should have played a low club from dummy!

At this stage the defenders would have three tricks. If West led another club (his best chance), South would ruff in his own hand, and draw trumps. Eventually South would be able to discard his of clubs.

The vital point that South missed was that the king of clubs would be just as valuable a trick if taken later on. There was no need to waste it when East was sure to ruff.

Jaycees Christmas Tree Committee Has Busy Weekend

The Christmas tree project committee of the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce had such a busy weekend that the stocks brought in Friday and Saturday were practically depleted. Those in charge, however, announced today that a plentiful supply of trees will be on hand at the YMCA tennis court Tuesday noon, and urge patrons to call early for choice selections.

The trees were being cut at the Howard Alexander farm along Irwin run, and some difficulty was encountered because of deep snow on the roads leading to the site. However, the crew managed to get through and announce that trees will be brought in as long as there is a demand for them.

The Jaycees are being assisted by members of the Jr. Hi-Y, who have taken over the activity as a means of helping to raise money for the Youth Canteen.

Gas Transmission Corporation Has Expansion Plans

Corry Journal: Owners of the Texas-Buffalo natural gas pipeline now being completed to provide service to this area now have asked permission to extend their line to a point near Niagara Falls, on the Niagara River where it could connect with a Canadian gas system.

Tennessee Gas Transmission Corporation of Houston, Tex., has filed an application with the Federal Power Commission for a $43,400,000 expansion program, which would provide 115,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily for the Toronto area.

Expansion of the line for the Canadian service would require major increases in its compression stations and the construction of a new 8,000-horsepower station at Findley Lake in Chautauqua county, the company said.

Pennsylvania Gas Company and other gas companies in western New York are benefiting from the line to Buffalo. Last month, Tennessee was authorized to extend its line east to Boston. Adding the Canadian service would bring Tennessee's system demand to 1,425,000,000 cubic feet daily.

The necessary expansion of its present lines to meet the Canadian demand would include 96 more miles of loop lines on the Kentucky-Buffalo segment alone. This segment passes along the Lake Erie side of Chautauqua county.

Garland Children Have Enjoyable Christmas Party

Cole Hill, Dec. 15—Local school children who attended the Garland school had a Christmas program in the community center Wednesday evening and it is announced the Torpedo Sunday school has planned a Christmas program which is to be a holiday feature for the entire community.

Services in the Torpedo community church the past two Sundays have been conducted by Rev. William Lamey, Cherry Tree, and Rev. L. C. Stuart, Oil City. Mrs. Blanche Holmes won the 12-pound turkey presented for bringing the most listeners to Rev. Stuart's service.

Henry Reslink, who lives on the Moore farm near Garland, was called to Meadville Tuesday by the death of his mother, who was burned to death Monday when her clothing caught fire.

Deer season brought but few kills in this community compared to former years. Only one antlerless deer was killed in the two-day season by residents living on the hill. This deer was killed on Andrews Run by Willis Wentworth the first day. Two other residents,

Charles Camp, Jr., and Howard Eastman, each got a buck during the buck season. Others getting a buck were John Zolko and George Hannah, of Torpedo.

John Bednar, Braddock, got a doe on his farm here in the antlerless season.

Chester Kibbey, Pittsfield, was a visitor on the hill Sunday. He reports the high wind last Thursday took part of the roof off his barn on his place near Wrightsville. The barn was filled with hay which will have to be baled and moved to save it from the weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Wentworth and daughters, Wilma, Doris and Sarah were Titusville visitors Saturday.
